The History of King's College

University education in Canada began with King's. Founded in 1789 in Windsor, Nova Scotia, by Bishop Charles Inglis, King's was the first university in English Canada to accept and graduate students and to receive a royal charter. King's is the oldest English-speaking Commonwealth university outside the United Kingdom and received its royal charter from George III in 1802.

A Special Relationship with Dalhousie University

In 1920, a fire burned the main building to the ground at King's, Windsor. A grant from the Carnegie Corporation of New York allowed King's to rebuild, not in Windsor, but in Halifax, where it entered into an association with Dalhousie University, the largest university in the Maritimes. Since then, King's students have been able to take courses at both King's and Dalhousie, giving them access to more academic program choices than at any other university in Atlantic Canada.

King's Coat of Arms

The old crest was designed by King's students in 1870 and combined the Royal Arms with those of Oxford University, Nova Scotia, and the Diocese of Nova Scotia. In 1959, the King's board of governors was alerted to the fact that the crest had never been officially sanctioned by the College of Arms or any other recognized heraldic authority.

In 1964, the College of Arms in London granted the university a new coat of arms. The crown to the left of the Paschal Lamb represents Oxford University, on which King's is modelled. The Paschal Lamb represents the Fredericton Diocese. The St. Andrew's Cross (with the pastoral staff and the key) symbolizes Nova Scotia in the Diocese of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. The four green oak trees are there to represent Prince Edward Island.

Motto

The Latin motto of the University of King's College is Deo Legi Regi Gregi, which translates to "For God, law, crown, and people".

Vind

Vind is the Latin abbreviation for Windsor. Although it refers to Windsor, it is still used to indicate a graduate of the University of King's College (in Windsor or Halifax) in the same way that Oxon. refers to a graduate of Oxford. It distinguishes our university from other King's Colleges in the world.

It comes from Universitatis Collegii Regalis Vindsoriensis, in Provincia Novae Scotiae, which is used on the old University of King's College coat of arms and in The Statutes, Rules and Ordinances, of the University of King's College at Windsor, in the Province of Nova Scotia, 1803.
